IN ABSENTIA--This is more or less the way to describe this column this week.

We are on vacation, as we announced last week, but we are knocking the column out before we take off. You will be reading it, however, while we are loafing.

This, then, would be an excellent time to do some high-powered needling. We could shoot our arrows into the air and be gone before they take effect.

But, as we leave on our vacation, it is all sweetness and light as far as we are concerned.

We are just thankful that it is possible to get away. Period.

We'll see you when we get back. Save your fire and keep your powder dry.

REDWOOD BENCHES placed in the city parks and elsewhere in the city will not have the import of the famous tree which was planted by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1904. But with suitable plaques attached, these chips off the old block will somewhat ease the pain of the passing of this distinguished historical community landmark.

Councilman Ed Rogers and Mayor Charles Rose gave the old college try in trying to save the Redwood by having the intersection redesigned. But this was not feasible. So the tree was doomed.

There was no fanfare when the tree came down. This was hardly in keeping with the thousands of words, the many crusades and the controversies that the old stalwart caused while it was alive.

Although we knew that the tree was to get the axe when the final efforts to get a stay of execution had failed, we were not prepared for such quick action.

The tree had already hit the deck when we were notified. Hence there is no picture of the Redwood crashing to earth.

We were disappointed. Such a picture would have completed our file.

For the record, one of our photos of the Roosevelt tree appeared in "Sports Illustrated" a number of years ago when that magazine was doing a feature on the conservation activities of Teddy Roosevelt.

But the best we could do at the demise of the tree, were some shots of the poor old fellow unglamorously stretched out on the ground and being sawed up ignaminously.

It was sort of sad.

SUPERIOR JUDGE appointments used as political plums came in for some criticism recently in this column.

We were disappointed that Municipal Judge Richard (Dusty) had not been "promoted" to a recent Superior Court bench vacancy rather than a party worker. We feel Dusty had

WVJC board holds second meet on campus location

Decision on the location of the first permanent campus for the West Valley Junior College was the main issue brought before the October 6 WVJC board meeting which adjourned following press time. Post-ponement of the site decision, originally scheduled for Thursday, October 1, was made following an exhaustive session lasting until well past midnight Thursday, October 1.

Under consideration by the board were six final sites which had been chosen from a list of 25 proposed sites. The most ideal, according to architects Reid and Tarics, San Francisco, and Higgins and Root of Los Gatos, is the Saratoga site at Fruitvale and Allendale Avenues. Also under consideration is a Campbell area location at Campbell and Hamilton Avenues.

The Thursday evening hearing was preceded by a presentation by the architects who had, by a predetermined criteria such as cost, adaptability, accessibility and natural beauty, narrowed the choice down to the six. The junior college presently has a five-year lease on the old Campbell Grammar school building, corner of Campbell and Winchester. The Campbell City Council has placed itself on record as welcoming the Junior College and urging that it locate within the Campbell area.

Strong opposition to the Fruitvale site has developed led by Saratoga Mayor William E. Glennon and Robert Dwyer, a Saratoga attorney and chairman of a Committee Opposed to a Junior College in Saratoga.

Speaking for Saratogans who approve of the college being located in

City fills two key jobs

Campbell has gained two new city employees in recent weeks who will occupy key positions in the city administration.

Richard D. Hogan, 44 (left above) has been appointed planning director, effective October 1. He takes the place of the late Orville Overen, this city's first full time planning director who held the position for more than two years. His salary is $841 monthly.

Hogan, a graduate of the University of Oregon, comes to Campbell from Richland, Washington, where he served as Benton County regional planner. He is married and is residing at the present time in an apartment in Campbell.

Prior to his last position Hogan was employed by Medord and Portland, Oregon. He served in the Army as a commissioned officer for 10 years.

Edmund H. Ravenscroft, 28, (right above), a graduate of Allegheny College, PA. and with a masters degree from University of California, took up his duties as administrative assistant to City Manager Bob Stephens on September 1. His starting salary is $541 per month.

Monday accident kills pedestrian

The first Campbell pedestrian death in over 2 and a half years occured Monday afternoon when William Roger Horne, 31, 840 W. Campbell Ave. succumbed at Campbell Community Hospital from injuries received when he was hit by a car as he walked along the east shoulder of North Winchester Blvd. earlier in the day.

The Campbell Police Department had received a citation for pedestrian safety from the American Automobile Association in 1963 commending them for not having any pedestrian fatalities for over two years.

The driver of the car, Mrs. Margaret Louise O'Brien, 37, 140 Justc Ct., stated to Campbell Police she had just left her driveway and made a left turn onto Winchester. Her statement to the police reads "I saw a man as I pulled out of the driveway. I got out on Winchester and got almost to him and he either was too far on the road or else took a sudden lurch to the left and I couldn't avoid hitting him."

The victim was hit by the right bumper of Mrs. O'Brien's car, which, according to several witnesses, was not traveling fast at the time of the accident. Death was caused by massive head injuries. An autopsy will be conducted.

Mayor receives parking ticket

During the Monday night council meeting, Campbell Police Chief John Morgan was asked by the council members if the present parking limits around the college were being enforced by the giving of overtime parking tickets.

Chief Morgan replied emphatically that they certainly were giving tickets. Where-upon Mayor Charles Rose pulled a ticket out of his pocket and announced that "he could vouch for that". Quickly Chief Morgan came forth with the right answer, "No discrimination on Campbell streets".

ROBERT BRYDON

Brydon leaves board

Robert W. Brydon, 46, who has served on the Moreland School District board of trustees since 1955 and has been president for an unprecedented nine years, has resigned from the board because of ill health.

His resignation was accepted with regret at last board meeting. The board has invited interested citizens in the district to make applications for the vacancy.

Brydon, who resides at 1140 E. Latimer, is married and has two sons, Steven and John, both students at Campbell High. Steven is student body president. He was born in Campbell, January 13, 1918, and attended Campbell elementary schools, Campbell High and San Jose State. The Brydon family has lived in this area for more than 70 years.

ON JC BOARD

Brydon is active in agricultural activities and is a director of Sunsweet Growers. He is also a member of the governing board of West Valley Junior College

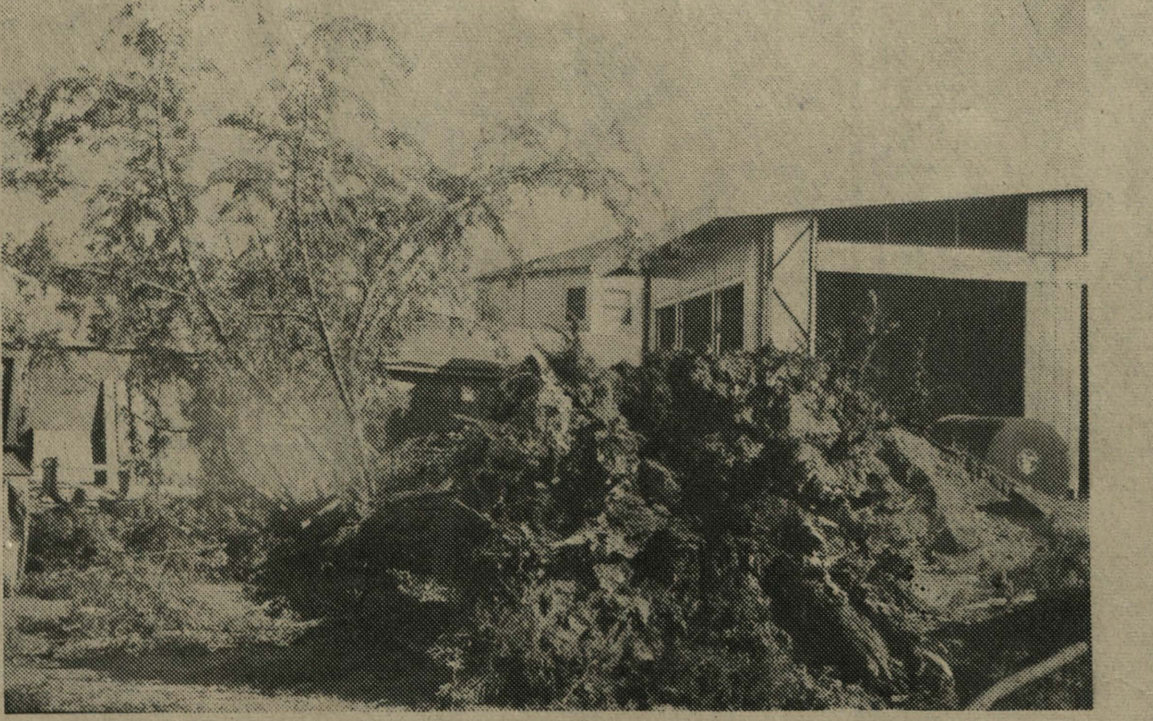
End comes to Campbell's Roosevelt Redwood



END OF AN ERA--(AND A TREE)--Campbell's bid to historical fame, the 60-year old Roosevelt Redwood that was so long a landmark at Winchester and Campbell exists no more. Planted in 1904 by President Theodore Roosevelt, the death knell was sounded last week when the City Council ruled that there was no way to save the tree from the wheels of progress. It would be in the way of the improvements planned for the intersection.

The day after the Council made its final ruling, the tree came down. Thus the final chapter was written in the intriguing tale of a Campbell tradition. But there will be a sequel. By Council decision, benches will be made from the tree. Suitable plaques attached to the benches will explain the historical significance.

The tree came down without fanfare or flourishes. No pictorial record was made of the actual cutting, as there was no prior notification that the axe was about to fall. The above photos show the fallen monarch being pushed around and sawed up. One eight-foot length 92-inches in circumference was saved for the city's benches. Doing the sawing are Eddie Holiday and Manuel Hinojors of the Bridges Construction Co.

A last minute reprieve was granted the Roosevelt Redwood tree Monday afternoon, when with appropriate fan-fare, ceremony and dignataries present, the decayed stump of the 60-year old tree was rescued from the dump and replanted at Vasona Park. Members of the Campbell Garden Club and the Pioneer Club of Campbell, spearheaded by Mrs. Ward Brannon and Mrs. Merrill Mack, literally pulled the tree stump from the dump with the aid of LeRoy Black, Street Superintendent, and Rob Gallaher, who located the stump in the dump.

Hastily receiving permission from Bob Amy, Santa Clara County Parks, the two women whipped up an appropriate ceremony at the Vasona site Monday afternoon which included the reading by Mrs. Mack of the words that were read when President Theodore Roosevelt planted the tree 60 years ago at the corner of Campbell and Winchester. Also present at the resurection were representatives of the various youth organizations, Mayor Charles Rose and Paul Landwehr, Secretary-Manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Will schools go UP?

New schools built recently in the Campbell area have been a far cry from the schools of yesteryear. Many new concepts have been incorporated in them.

Capri and Hazelwood are designed quite differently than previous schools and the new Westmont High School includes features that were not even heard of when we were growing up.

But as the population explosion continues in this area and land values go skyrocketing, more and more we have heard that multi-story school buildings will be the next big change to take place in school planning.

Admittedly we, too, have felt that in the near future the new schools will start going up rather than out.

But the top brass in the state school system have indicated that they are not in agreement with this thinking and sort of 'debunk' such concepts as "high rise" school buildings.

They have not yet convinced us that multi-story schools should be tossed out the second-story window so to speak. On the other hand we admit that the state officials have a case of sorts.

In a recent news release of the Education News Service some of the arguments against the multi-story schools were listed.

These include and we quote:

"Multi-story school buildings cannot save any appreciable amount of land over single-story buildings (probably not more than three to four acres for a typical large high school).

The normal high school site includes 40 acres.

Two basic reasons are listed also against multi-story projects economically speaking:

1. It is more expensive per square foot and this increased cost may offset any savings in land cost.
2. Districts receive less state aid for a given floor area when multi-story construction is used."

In addition, state officials point out, fire and structural safety requirements are stiffer for multi-story buildings; planning freedom is more restricted and multi-story schools present more safety hazards for students, teachers and other users, whether physical education, off-street parking and street setbacks, some 75 per cent of the total site, remains the same. Also, multi-story buildings require 50 per cent more space between structures for light and ventilation.

But state officials do concede that on occasion the logical solution to a problem is a multi-storied school, particularly in urban areas where the cost of land can make multi-story construction economical.

In the Los Angeles area, for example, five multi-story high school buildings are either proposed or under construction.

So, in a sort of off-hand way, the door is still slightly open even in the minds of the top education brass of the state.

It seems to us that it is a question of degree...In other words just how costly is the land and is there available space...In a sense these both statements go hand in hand.

So maybe we ought to leave it that way.

If you can't go out, you go up.

If the growth continues in our area, we may be going up before we know it.

earned the step-up by his outstanding record made as a "muni" judge.

We conceded, however, that most of the appointments that have been made, even the most political ones, have turned out pretty well.

This was even more emphatically brought out by the recent appointment to the Alameda County Superior bench of an old college friend of ours, Spurgeon (Sparky) Avakian of Berkeley.

We have known Sparky since we both worked in the same off-campus hash-house in Fresno. We have kept pretty much in contact since our college days.

Admittedly, washing dishes or slinging hash are not necessarily qualifications for dispensing justice or editing a newspaper. But we did get to know each other pretty well during those four years long ago.

Our opinion gained then of Sparky has never changed. We have always considered him tops...whether it was in the hash-house or practicing law. We expect him to have a distinguished career on the bench. And he will, for we know the guy pretty well.

This is ONE political appointment (if it was) that we will have to go along with Pat as being deserving and worthy.

Do you think we are a wee bit prejudiced?

You're right. We are.

RECENTLY the staff of The Press ganged up and gave a surprise party at our home for LYLE RAY, our office watch dog for many years. It was Lyle's 72nd birthday.

Lyle has been on a "retired" status for a number of years. When he came to work full-time for The Press in the 1950's, he had just retired from a civil service career with the Finance Department of the Army.

In 1961 he retired again. This time he was eligible for Social Security. But after a few months of complete retired bliss, Lyle came back to The Press on a part-time basis. His income, of course, was limited by Social Security regulations.

But now that he is a sprightly 72, the Social Security limitations on earnings are off.

So again he can "unretire" without any strings attached.

We are already planning how we can use him full-time.

LAST MEETING--A full board was present for the first time in several months for the Moreland School District when Robert Brydon (second from left), president of the board, presented his resignation due to ill health. and was active in the long battle in getting the junior college district established. He has been a member of the County Committee on School District Organization. He plans, at least for the time being, to retain his membership on the JC board.

The action of the board in accepting the resignation of Brydon taken "with deep regret at the loss of fine personal friend and a sincere friend of education."

FORESIGHT

During his tenure on the Moreland board, Brydon has taken an active interest in the building program of the district and was cited by his fellow board members for his foresight in the development of a master plan for the district. It was also pointed out that he actively advocated purchase of school sites before many of the people of the area were convinced of the possibility of the rapid growth which had occurred since that time.

Dr. Theo J. Norby, Moreland Superintendent, in summing up Brydon's service to the district, said, "You and those like you showed great courage in preposing and carrying out such bold plans to take care of future children before it was evident to many that there would be change, let alone growth in the district."

In his letter of resignation, Brydon said "It is with deep regret that I submit my resignation as a member of the Moreland School District board of trustees to become effective October 15, 1964.

LETTER

"My recent illness has made it necessary for me to curtail my activities and make this decision.

"During my service I have sincerely enjoyed my working relationship with the Board and the Administration. I want to thank each and every board member for the confidence you have shown by electing me president for the past nine years. It is an honor seldom given which I appreciate and will always remember.

"I feel that Moreland is a superior school district and that under the guidance of the board it will continue to grow and excel.

"If in the future, as a citizen of the district, I can be of service to the Board I would welcome the opportunity."

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT G. BAXTER JR. (CEDRA MAPES)

The Herbert Baxters Jr. will reside in Campbell

In a lovely candlelight service held at the home of her parents, Miss Cedra Marie Mapes exchanged marriage vows with Herbert G. Baxter Jr., of Campbell. Judge Edward J. Nelson officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Osmond G. Mapes. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of gold on candlelight brocade. Her short veil was secured by a head piece of flowers and she carried an old-fashioned nosegay of carnations and white roses.

Mrs. Charles A. Caramella of San Jose was the matron of honor. She chose a beige and white linen ensemble and her bouquet was of cymbidium orchids with gold accents. Lonnie Carrera of Campbell served as the best man.

A reception was held for the newlyweds and approximately 50 guests were in attendance. The bride's table was centered with a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake topped with satin wedding bells.

The young couple left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and on their return will make their first home in Campbell, at 2643 South Bascom Ave.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Campbell High School. The new Mrs. Baxter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osmond G. Mapes, 2220 Casey Rd.

Baxter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Baxter Sr., 1540 Theresa Ave., Campbell. He has served with the U.S. Navy and is now employed at Sylvania Corp., Mountain View.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By Dolores Keywood

In great-grandmother's day, lacey hosiery was quite the thing even though they were appreciated by very few, because of the long skirts.

This style went out and seamed hosiery came in. Then hemlines rose and hosiery with any detail on them was frowned on. The bare leg look was the rage. No attention was drawn below the hemline except the leg itself.

Today, short skirts reveal, not only colorful stockings, but textured stockings as well.

Colors are many, including red, purple, green and blue. Textured hosiery come in interesting patterns such as stripes, cable-stitch and harlequin, just to name a few. Any of these may be coordinated with your daytime suits and dresses while the delicate lace are strictly for evening wear.

Remember, however, that attention getting stockings means attention getting legs and if they are not one of your best points, I suggest you leave well enough alone.

If your legs are on the heavy side, stay with the darker shades to minimize and if your legs are thin, the lighter tones create a fuller illusion. Hosiery with seams of any color are definitely OUT.

Because the opera pump covers the entire foot, a reinforced heel and toe in hosiery is most practical, but when wearing sandals that reveal the heel or toe, be sure the reinforcement doesn't show. The demi-toe is ideal when only the heel of the foot is seen.

Hosiery should not be considered just something to keep the legs warm, but should be selected with as much care as your accessories.

Remember! IT'S NOT SO MUCH WHAT YOU HAVE, BUT WHAT YOU DO WITH IT!

For answers to individual problems, write to me in care of this paper.

Adventists make community-wide appeal for hurricane victims

The Health and Welfare Service unit of Campbell Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 65 E. Rincon Ave., Campbell, is launching a community-wide appeal for summer-type clothing for persons in countries expected to be hit by hurricanes in the next few months.

Summer clothing for men, children and infants is especially needed in the drive which will continue for the next month, according to Mrs. Lina Graham, 717 Lyle Lane, Campbell, director of the church Health and Welfare Service Unit.

"The hurricane season has already begun in several parts of the world," said Mrs. Graham in announcing the disaster clothing drive. "Already appeals for more clothing have been received by Seventh-Day Adventist disaster distribution centers overseas than there are supplies available."

The local church disaster-welfare director said clothing collected locally will be sent to the Western Adventist Overseas Disaster Relief Center near San Jose, California, where it will be immediately processed for overseas shipment.

Last year, noted Mrs. Graham, more than 7,000,000 pieces of clothing were distributed from Adventist-sponsored centers to persons of scores of races and creeds around the world who had been hit by disasters. Much of this clothing came from persons of many faith in thousands of communities throughout America.

Goodwill Center adds clean room for tool repair

GOODWILL CENTER

A special "clean room" for precision tool repair and servicing has been added at the San Jose headquarters rehabilitation center of Goodwill Industries.

With the exception of some precision tool repair departments maintained for their own use by aerospace firms, the new Goodwill Industries clean room is the only one in northern California for commercial gage repair.

Temperature-controlled and dust-free, the new facility is part of Goodwill's Contracts department, and is under the management of veteran machinist Warren Smith. (Smith has joined Goodwill after several years of experience in the field of precision tool repair for the metal-working industry.)

Course features views of earth

Geology, Oceanography and Biology in the Space Age will present new views of today's earth and life in a new course being offered by the Campbell Adult School, Campbell Union High School District, according to E.P. Stanley, director.

This course will endeavor to present, in lectures, laboratory work, demonstrations, and new films, non-technical accounts of the modern phases of geology, oceanography and biology. No science or math background is necessary for taking this course.

All background for understanding any aspects of the course's contents will be delivered in a simplified, easy to understand manner. The course should prove to be an exciting journey into new realms and horizons of geology, oceanography and biology.

The instructor for the course is Frederick of the University of California at Berkeley, ('58), and San Jose State College, ('60). Having majored in zoology and the life sciences while in college, Fisher has recently taken the National Science Foundation courses in the earth sciences.

Cupertino seeks historic plaque

A $500 cash reward for information leading to the recovery of the long lost De Anza plaque, commemorating the De Anza Expedition Encampment on the Arroyo de St. Joseph Cupertino, March 25-26, 1776, has been offered by the Cupertino Chamber of Commerce.

The De Anza plaque was unearthed after the 1906 San Francisco earthquake by Charles Ronsten, John T. Doyle winery foremen, only to be lost again. Ronsten showed the De Anza plaque to San Antonia school marm, Miss Susie Alice Corpstein, in September of 1906, on her way to school. Miss Corpstein took the plaque to school and used it as a nucleus in De Anza history lessons for the next several days.

Her students, some of which are still living, cleaned the plaque and all testify that the words De Anza, 1776, Arraya de St. Joseph Cupertino were clearly illegible. Miss Corpstein asked Ronsten to take it to Santa Clara College and have it translated. Research has established that Ronsten never took the De Anza plaque there and it can be presumed that he threw it somewhere on the Doyle Winery property.

Forty minute parking set near college

A classic "Town vs: Gown" argument occupied members of the Campbell City Council Monday night as the merchants of the town, with Campbell Police Chief John Morgan as their spokesman, requested relief from the city council in the matter of West Valley Junior College students occupying business parking spaces in the Campbell, Winchester area.

With Councilman Ed Rogers urging that time be given the students to find their way to the parking lots provided for them, and pleading that the council not be too hasty in their enactment of a new 40-minute parking limitation, the council decided that the best interests of the town would be served by passing the ordinance on an emergency basis to become effective as soon as the new signs could be prepared and placed, approximately 30 days.

Passed by the council the controversial forty-minute parking ordinance will effect both sides of E. Campbell avenue from Winchester to S. Second Street, on both sides of S. Fourth Street from Campbell to Sanford avenue and both sides of N. Third Street from Campbell to Grant, the north side of W. Campbell avenue in front of the high school from a point four parking spaces west from the Winchester intersection, both sides of N. Third street from Campbell to Grant and to a depth of 300 feet south of Campbell avenue on either side of S. Third. The parking limits will be in effect from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays excluded.

The 40-minute time limit was set because the length of the 50-minute classes would curtail students from parking on the business streets and moving their cars between classes, instead of using the parking lots provided for them by the college, which reportedly are only one-third full.

Parking tickets, liberally passed out by Campbell Police department personnel trying to enforce the one-hour parking limit now in effect on the streets surrounding the college, have not been a deterient to student parking. The ordinance will not become effective until the students and the college authorities have had ample time to adjust to the new rulings.

Westmont traffic problems aired at meet

Campbell City Council members met Monday night in an adjourned meeting at which time the problem of the speeders on Westmont Avenue were given careful consideration.

Myron Hawk, City Engineer, reported that a stop sign had been placed on McCoy Avenue at Harriet facing eastbound traffic, and that no other stop signs could be placed at this time because the territory involved was not within Campbell city limits.

Campbell Police Chief John Morgan was also present at the meeting and presented a careful speed survey graph showing that the top traffic peak occured between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. at which time 236 vehicles were clocked on Harriet Avenue at Inskip Drive with an average speed of 28.5 miles per hour during that time. During the entire observation period only six vehicles were clocked at over 40 miles per hour.

Chief Morgan stated that his department would do their best to control the traffic in this area, particularly during football games.

A representative group of interested Harriet Avenue residents thanked the City Council for their time and interest.

Planning children's recreation is duty of successful parent

Successful parents more often than not have directed their children to use leisure time wisely. Planning helpful, healthful recreation is never easy, since aptitude, interests and personality of each child must be considered. During the school year it is especially difficult to do, for time must be budgeted for studying. Abilities of children vary in this respect also.

Advice from an expert in charge of the West's oldest and San Francisco's largest child-care institution can be of help to parents looking for solutions to recreational problems. Sister Yvonne, administrator of Mount St. Joseph's Home for Girls at 1700 Newhall Street, San Francisco, supervises the activities of more than 125 dependent girls. The youngsters, between the ages of six and eighteen, live at the Mount but attend different San Francisco schools.

Supervision is one precept of Sister Yvonne's recreational planning. Control of supervision is complicated, however, because the Mount, like a family home, is an open door institution.

Parents who find planning recreational activities difficult sometimes do not take advantage of the opportunities available to them where they live. As Sister Yvonne points out, the Recreational and Park Department has an effective year-round program which can be a great help to parents.

In order to use excess energy wisely, expert athletic instruction is a must. Some playgrounds regularly schedule activities such as ceramics and crafts. Art museums, the Junior Museum, churches and libraries, all provide recreation for youngsters. Newspapers are a chief source of information in planning recreational activities.

SJSC Alumni Association announces fund drive

Tomorrow's lawyer may never make it.

Tomorrow's doctor may never be able to go into practice.

Tomorrow's scientific breakthrough may be delayed for years or never come.

Why? Because many of the men and women who will be filling those roles do not have the means to pursue a college education.

The growing crisis of diminishing funds, especially on the state college level, is beginning to be felt ever more as enrollment spiral, building costs go up, and budgets are stretched thinner and thinner.

And even with the low fees such as at San Jose State College, many gifted young men and women must cast out of their mind the possibility of affording a college education.

To help relieve the crisis, the San Jose State College Alumni Association is unveiling a new Achievement Fund for 1964-65, with a yearly goal of $100,000.

In announcing the drive, SJS Alumni Association President Gerard J. Kettmann said, "The need has never been so obvious and pressing. This is the real time for our alumni to take a significant step forward."

President Robert D. Clark, San Jose State's chief executive, gave his full support to the drive.

To serve the national interest, defense procurement policy should be determined primarily by the productive capability of an area and not local economic factors.

Judged by this standard Santa Clara County has done extremely well in defense procurement. In Fiscal Year 1963, the last year for which county-by-county figures are available, local firms received prime contract awards totaling $1.233 billion. This amounted to approximately 22.2% of the total of $5.835 billion for the entire state. Since California got 23.1% of the 1963 national defense procurement budget, it follows that Santa Clara County received nearly 5% of the prime contract dollars awarded the entire nation.

The growth of employment in Santa Clara County has been fantastic through both Republican and Democratic Administrations. Between 1957 and 1963, employment in our County increased by 65% as compared to 16% for the rest of the State including Los Angeles County.

When compared with neighboring Bay Area Counties, Santa Clara County's employment increase is even more dramatic. Bay Area employment has increased 33% since 1951, while in Santa Clara County it has increased by 150%.

With such phenomenal growth some economic readjustment was inevitable. But, significantly the readjustment has only served to slow down growth and has not resulted in a material dollar reduction in Santa Clara County prime contracts. The main reason for slackening of our growth trend has been military Research and Development cutbacks by the Defense Department.

This interruption is not permanent. Rather, it is a plateau which will remain stable at least through 1965 followed by an orderly and less volatile resumption of growth.

Fluctuations in defense spending have been traditional in the entire state. For example, in Fiscal Years 1951 through 1963, prime contract awards to California have varied from a low of 12.8% of the nation's total to a high of 26%. The average of California's share of the national defense procurement over these thirteen years has been 20.5%. Estimates are that this average will just about be achieved during the current Fiscal Year.

Naturally, efforts to convert defense industry to more steady peacetime activity are the soundest answers for this County in the long run. But in the meantime my prediction that an orderly growth will resume in 1965 is valid for several reasons. First, there is proven competence in our area which is located next to great universities and government-owned and sponsored scientific laboratories. Secondly, national defense policy, being fluid, is certain to change to allow for the development of things like Supersonic Transports, Mobile Medium Range Ballistic Missiles for our NATO allies and new missiles like the POLARIS B-3. We should not expect a fantastic and disruptive growth like that which took place after 1957. But it will be orderly and it should last.

College gets running start in three sports

West Valley's Vikings started off their season on the right foot with three victories in water polo, cross country, and football during the week-end of September 25.

FOOTBALL

Head football coach Bob Jones unleashed a deadly passing combo in the persons of quarterback Rich Dougherty and Tom Gibbons in the Vallejo opener on the latter's field. Dougherty, a profilic passer working out of "a throwing man's" pro-style offense, completed 12 of 27 heaves for 183 yards. Nine of the completions were to long, tall Tom Gibbons, the sprinter from Campbell. Gibbons also scored two touchdowns.

Final score of the contest was 18-12 in favor of the Vikings.

WATER POLO

Perhaps the biggest surprise of all was the ease with which West Valley's water polo squad swamped Monterrey Peninsula 24-3.

Outstanding on offense for West Valley Junior College were Gary Gordon of Los Gatos with nine points and Jim Tracy of Pioneer and Jim Moser of Lincoln with three apiece. Ken Lay of Santa Clara's Panthers was cited by Martinez as outstanding on defense. The win was especially sweet for West Valley because the tilt was counted a sure walk-away for Monterrey before gametime.

CROSS COUNTRY

To round out West Valley's unexpectedly successful first weekend of sports, the cross-country contingent whipped San Jose City's Jaguars in a duel meet at Vasona Lake by the score of 22-33.

Ben Rogers and Gordy Fredrick paved the way for West Valley by placing first and second respectively. They were followed closely by San Jose's Al Russel and Rosco Hand. Paul Uredenburg and Niel McIntosh placed fifth and sixth to wrap things up for the Vikings. Head Coach Tom Smith was particularly pleased with the win because for the past two seasons he directed San Jose City College to two NorCal championships.

Hornets blanket Alum Rock 33-0 in third league win

The Santa Clara Valley Hornets won their third straight league encounter Sunday against the Alum Rock Golden Lions at Lick High School field, 33 to 0.

The Hornets scored after reveiving the opening kick off when half back John Kitazumi went around right end for 14 yds. into pay dirt. Full back Glen Schanck, a Del Mar freshman, added the seventh point with a plunge over right tackle.

The second quarter was only a minute and a half old when Bob Huber capped a 60 yd. drive with a 2 yd. T.D. Schanck went over Co Captain Tim Vatuone, another for the 14th point. The Hornets left the field 14 points ahead at half time.

The Lions held Hornets to a lone six pointer in the third quarter. This T.D. came when fullback workhorse Glen Schanck, who carried for 118 yards, scored over the right tackle for the 19th point.

In the 4th quarter, Q B Rich Troedson, Camden freshman, took to the aerial route to score 2 T.D.s. The first coming when Troedson tossed a four yard pass to end Kent Rankin. Later, in the final quarter Troedson again reared back and fired a 5 yd. serial to thirteen year old tight end Ed Kinsil, a student at Ida Price. Ron Buckley scored the PAT to cap the win.

Hornets, now lead the West Bay Division of Pop Warner football with a 3-0 record. Their next foe is the tough Milpitas Kings at Samuel Ayer High School next Sunday. Kick off will be 1:30 p.m.

The Hornet Bees were victors over the Sunnyvale Rockets 21 to 6. Gary Pipkin, Tim Smithers and Ed De La Rue scored for the Bees and Brad Bruner and Andy Brasile were the outstanding defensive players. The Bees also boast a 3-0 record and meet the San Bruno Jets next Sunday at 11 a.m. at Camden High Football field.

Two booked in beating

Campbell police are holding two men following a complaint by Darrell Whitney Nance, 22, 2496 Foxworthy Ave., that he was "taken for a ride" on Union Avenue in Campbell and beaten over the head with a lead pipe.

Lodged at County Jail are William Ray "Tex" Howard, 3042 Driftwood Dr., San Jose, on a conspiracy charge and Riley V. Parson, 1879 Pandora St., charged with assault with a deadly weapon and conspiracy. Another accomplice is still at large.

Nance was given emergency treatment for head wounds requiring 13 stitches, October 2.

According to Campbell Police the beating was a "revenge fight" following a skirmish at Orchard City Billiards in Campbell about a month ago when Nance allegedly accused one of the men of "cheating at cards."

West Valley drops home opener

West Valley's Vikings nearly pulled off a touchdown in the last seconds of the game for the second week in a row but failed in dropping a 20-12 decision to Hartnell on the Los Gatos High School field last Saturday night.

After Hartnell had tallied a TD with only a little more than a minute remaining the Vikings took the ensuing kick to the Viking 34 yard line. Their Viking Coach Bob Jones sent in passing specialist Charlie Cerdeva who then passed the team to Hartnell's 38. However, the inability of the receivers to get out of bounds forced Cerdeva to go for the long one. With six seconds remaining Cerdeva arched the bomb for flanker Jim Tyrrell but the Panther defender managed to deflect the ball at the goal line.

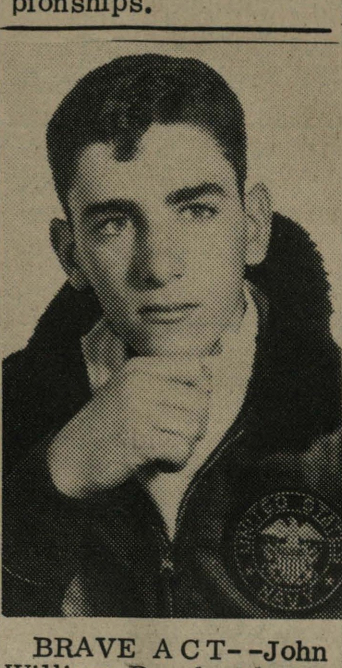
The Vikings two touchdowns came on a pass from Rich Dougherty to Dennis Gray for 4 yards and a 51 yard scamper by Tom Gibbens. Gibbens the game's best back, followed his blockers beautifully around the left side and then cut back behind the Hartnell secondary to complete his TD jaunt.

The downfall in the game for the Vikings was the defensive line. West Valley was impassable around the ends and in the air but could not cope with the straight ahead smash.

CAL-VET LOANS PROVE POPULAR

A total of 9,417 qualified California war veterans in Santa Clara County have borrowed $102,332,000 for homes and farms under the distinctive Cal-Vet Farm and Home Purchase Program since it was started in 1922.

Of this total, according to Santa Clara District Manager Victor C. Morgan, there are 6,263 active home loans representing an investment of $74,224,300 and with a loan balance of $65,005,790, while 16 active farm loans at a $242,600 investment have a $210,090 loan balance.



BRAVE ACT--John William Penhall, 20, grandson of Mrs. Leah Penhall, 69 Kennedy Ave. is expected to receive a commendation for bravery for saving the life of a shipmate during a fire and explosion aboard the USS Sproston at Pearl Harbor. Penhall is also the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Cy Penhall and Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford of Campbell.

New theater offers musical shows

Season tickets for as low as $9 for five top musical shows with great show business names are now available at the new Circle Star Theater, the West Coast's most beautiful theater-in-the-round, located at Bayshore and Whipple on the San Carlos-Redwood City Border.

The 3300-seat arena stage theater will open October 13 with the inimitable Jane Powell starring in "My Fair Lady." Michael Evans, suave and debonair Englishman, will play Professor Henery Higgins. The same stars just concluded a record-breaking 4-weeks run in the same show at the Valley Music Theater in Los Angeles.

Other shows in the first subscription season of the year-round operation are "Irma la Douce," "starring Juliet Prowse (Oct. 27-Nov. 8); "Bye-Bye Birdie," with George Gobel and Elaine Dunn (Nov. 10-22); the Nat King Cole Show (Nov. 24-Dec. 6, and Dorothy Collins in "She Loves Me," (Dec. 8-20).

Every seat in the new theater, now nearing completion, is a good one. None is more than 60 feet from the stage, and there are no pillars to abstruct the view. The theater will be completely air-conditioned, and there is ample parking space.

The box office is open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for season tickets only. Single tickets may be ordered by mail (P.O. Box 1117, San Carlos). For information call 365-0565.

ART EXHIBIT

The artwork of Mrs. Loraine Thurber, 1509 Walnut Drive, Campbell, will be on exhibit with the work of other artists members of the Los Gatos Art Association during the month of October. The Art Center, 19010 Austin Way, Los Gatos, is open to the public on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays from 2 until 5 p.m.

PROGRESS REPORT

Campbell City Council members Monday night requested that a project report be presented to the body once a month from the street superintendent in order that the council could keep closer tabs on street improvement progress.

RE-CLASSIFIED

During the Monday night Campbell City Council meeting Cruz Gomes was re-classified to the position of Junior Civil Engineer at a salary of $612.00. Gomes, who has been with the city two years and 11 months, was formerly classed as an Engineer Aid at $533 a month.

EMERGENCY MEET

City Engineer Myron Hawk asked for an emergency adjourned meeting of the Campbell City Council for Friday afternoon, October 9 at 2:30 p.m. at which time the Ester Avenue Storm Drainage bids will be considered. The emergency meeting is asked so that the bids can be awarded immediately and work started before the street floods and college parking lots will be under water.
